“ Charyl, please accept my sincere apologies, I only just heard. I met Dennis just once at a Dani J seminar, we kept in touch ever since. We exchanged prayers on numerous occasions when we required a greater help. He was an amazing man and full of amazing stories. You and your family are in my prayers. God bless, Murray.

“ Jason, Charyl and family,

It is with sadness that Megan and I learned of the recent passing of you father and husband. Having lost my own father at a relatively young age I can share a measure of what you feel at this difficult time but also recognize that I can't truly appreciate all that Dennis meant to you and the entire family. It is our prayer that you can find comfort in the cherished memories and peace in the knowledge that God has called him home.

*With deepest sympathy,

“ I would like to offer my condolences to Charyl and the entire Armstrong family. Dennis was an amazing man and I have no doubt that he was a great husband, father and grandfather. At the office I would see him regularly and would always try to make a point to stop and chat with him. It was impossible to be in a bad mood while talking to Dennis. He was a true optimist- always smiling, always able to lend a hand to those in need. He supported me in a variety of endeavors inside and outside of work, and I will miss his friendship greatly-- a great man.

“ To the friends and family of Dennis Armstrong.

Dennis and I worked on the same team at DSR for 5+ years. And we had a ball. He will surly be missed.

This is a sad time for us all, but I draw comfort from the scriptures that tells us that Dennis is not in any pain or suffering. - Psalm 146:4.

And our loved ones that have died have a hope to be resurrected on a paradise earth. - John 5:28,29. Psalms 37:29.

And that the conditions of the earth will not be like it is now, but that the whole world will be a paradise. Not with sickness and death like we have now. But with no pain, no sickness, and no more death. Revelation 21:4. Isaiah 35:5, 6.

I hope this give you comfort as it does me.

“ So sorry to hear of Dennis' passing on Easter night. Dennis was a friend we'd met many years ago in CA and enjoyed lots of good times together with our families. Although he will be missed by many, our faith assures us that we will see our loved ones again. Prayers and blessings to all of the Armstong family. John & Kathy Miles
