“ I am the keeper of the last 6 years of Harry's memories. Nothing will ever completely heal me but having people to relate his stories too will help me cope. I took him to his operations, listened to his stories of yesteryear, and devoted my every being to his attention. We were best of buds and I miss him dearly! I have so much to tell, he was so smart and happy!!!! I miss you man, I miss you!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

“ My Good Friend Harry, was so wonderful to me. He befriended about 5 years and we became instant friends. I stood by through both the Leagues HE created. Sissy was close to him and his Sister said today still had not gotten over his loss of his best friend. Then he lost another dear friend Bonnie who I loved also. He lost his Dad about 3 wks ago.
His sisters Sharon and Allison told me alot today about Harry (Ed the gunslinger). He lived a full and eventful life and was always honest about his feelings. They believe his cause of death was a heart attack. As he had many through his later years.
His sisters asked me to tell everyone how much they appreciate all of his Friends. They asked no flowers to be sent. But appreciate the kind words everyone has expressed.
My Dear Friend shine your beautiful light and you and Lexie try not to be to competitive when playing Backgammon together.
Thanks everyone for your kind words. It is very much appreciated.

“ Many memories come flowing back of young and careless times. We hope you are in a better place and free of all that may have hardened your heart.

“ Ed The Gunslinger, you welcomed me into Dark Tower a league you built with lots of patience and hard work. Because of you I have met some wonderful people and have created life long friendships. I Thank You, Rest in Peace, till we see each other again. P.S. Give Bonnie (Lexielou) A Hug for me. You 2 will be missed. Bye Harry “ Hate to say goodbye, my friend. It is way too soon. I cared so much for you and hope you find Sissy on the other side and can run and play with her. I pray for God's peace and love for your family.
