

Jemilly Dawn Pruett

April 22, 1993 - December 4, 2025

Jemilly Dawn Pruett, age 32, of Dewey Oklahoma, passed away unexpectedly on Thursday, December 4, 2025, leaving behind a glow that will never truly fade. Born to Jacquelin LeBlaux and Timothy Barnes on April 22, 1993, Jemilly moved through life with a brightness that felt almost otherworldly, and was so full of light, that she seemed to carry her own sunrise with her.

At the center of her life was her family. The place where her love rooted and grew wild. She adored her husband Brandon, her partner in every single joy and hardship. They married on March 29, 2015, and began building their home full of laughter and the kind of everyday magic that comes from truly loving and being loved. Her children and grandson were the rhythm of her heart, and she celebrated their triumphs, stood strong beside them in their struggles, and believed in them with a fierce, unwavering devotion. Her stepsons, boys she immediately embraced as her own, were folded into that same boundless love. She wove all of her children together with tenderness and pride, seeing each of them as a blessing she had been trusted to guide, and her exuberance will live on through them eternally.

Jemilly's love also stretched deeply into the family she came from. She cared for her father with a devotion that spoke of both gratitude and fierce protectiveness. She watched over her brother and sister with the same gentleness and strength she offered the world—showing up, checking in, offering comfort, and holding them close in the ways only she could. Their hearts are forever changed by her kindness, and the space she leaves behind is one they will feel always. Her care extended naturally to her nieces and nephews, each of whom held a special place in her heart. They adored her, and the gift of her love will stay with them throughout their lives.

Jemilly loved without measure. She noticed the quiet hurts, the unspoken needs, and she stepped forward with open hands and an open heart. Helping others wasn't something she did; it was who she was. Her strength was unbreakable, and her compassion deep enough to hold whole worlds. To her family, she was a safe place. To her friends, she was a steady light. To all who knew her, she was proof that kindness can be powerful beyond measure.

Though her time here was heartbreakingly brief, the imprint she leaves is vast: a legacy of love, generosity, courage, and connection. Her light remains, shining in her family, her friends, and in every heart she ever lifted.

She is survived by her father Timothy, husband Brandon and their three children, Oscar, Naomi, and Harper, stepsons Jayden, Zachary, and Dakotah, grandson Leon, sister Nanette, brother Chad, sister-in-law Kim, cousins, beloved nieces and nephews, and a host of treasured friends that will miss her dearly.

She is preceded in death by her beloved mother Jacquelin, favorite uncle Danny Barnes, and her maternal and paternal grandparents.

Details for her Celebration of Life will be added as soon as they are finalized.

“ OH precious girl as everyone who knows you or has ever been around you knows the world has truly lost a beautiful bright light. If we would all strive to be half just half the amazing person you truly were our world would really be an awesome place. You, beautiful girl, got your beautiful spirit and your caring soul from your Grandmother Sue. She was such a a beautiful person inside and out, she loved her family deeply, she passed that down to your Mom Jacquelin who poured that into you and you, beautiful girl, took all the most wonderful parts of all of that and you did it BIG! There's a place for people like you it's called Heaven! I know without a doubt you are there!! I also know your Gammy and your Mom are celebrating right now!! You've left such a big empty space your earthly family and friends will never get over losing you! But we all know we will see you again some fine day. Until then, thank you beautiful girl for showing us all with your amazing example what truly caring for your family is supposed to look like-what having friends and loving them can mean to a whole bunch of people! Thank you for always shining everywhere you went. When you'd run into any of your many many friends you were never too busy to ask how we were and you were never too embarrassed to yell a name from across a crowded room!! The news of you leaving has started a ton of Jemilly stories and all come back around to what a beautiful wife you were. You showed your family and friends what it means to be a loving loyal wife. You showed your children everyday what it was like to have a caring loving mother and how to do that. You set the bar so high for when your children are parents when they have your grand children. Thank you for that. Everyone is talking about what a truly amazing friend you were to them and talks about what a huge friend group you truly had!! Even when we didn't get to see you often you never forgot to yell hello and to take time to ask about how or what the family had been doing. What a wonderful daughter you were to your mother Jacquelin. She poured her whole heart into you and you took it and poured it into your family! What a thoughtful loving sister you always have been. You sweetheart were also an amazing Grand daughter and auntie. The news that you've left continues to sadden everyone it reaches. You are truly so missed and we will continue to say your name everyday! We will NEVER forget.....Aunt Sharal and Uncle Robert

“From the 1st time I met you at Pete's I knew we were going to be long time friends, and when the tornado sirens went off and we gathered at my new house but the shelter was full of water we just laughed about it and let the kids play in the yard... I'm going to miss you so much.. you were my friend and now you're my angel...
