“ I've spent many a holiday with this family. They have treated me like one of their own. John even let me drive his car for a week when mine broke down.

“ This man here took me into his home and loved me like I was his own daughter. He taught me the importance of the love of a family rather than the love of money. I will hold dear to my heart our special fishing trips just you and me. You also taught my son many lessons on becoming a man. Rest in peace pops.

“ John was a mentor to me the last few years, teaching me how to hunt, back up a trailer, and many other things. He was right there with me last year when I killed my first deer and walked me through the whole process. He bought me my first muzzleloader for my 22nd birthday, the very muzzleloader I harvested my first buck with. I wish he could have been there to share the moment. He helped me remember traditional values and help understand how valuable family is. I wish he was here to hunt with me one more time. He was a very important man to me and I'm sure many others as well. I miss you JJ.

“ JJ was a friend and a great guy . I got to know him through playing softball with him alot . John was always someone you could count on ! He also was the only person I seen knock the cover off a softball ! He was at are softball reunion this fall , it was great talking to him and Debbie again ! It's sad it will be the last time until we see each other again one day , and maybe get to play a game of softball again together!

“ John was my adopted brother and we looked out for one another. We played flag football together and tackle up through our senior year in high school. John was the determining in many of our wins. The most memorable is a 6-6 tie with Pittsburg where John blocked a field goal attempt. I will miss this man every single day.
